Director's Reports

Board reviewed the director's report for November, including the following:

- Special activity in November was Dinovember, with 36 children searching the library for hidden dinosaurs.
- Reading Dragons program dispensed 48 cards, indicating active reading completed.
- Mike Anderson gave musical program with dulcimer.
- Paws & Pages had 9 children participating.

Report for December included:

- This was a slow month on most counts, including family reading (which had no participants).
- Georgia held a Lego sensory event for neurodivergent children, with 20 participants.
- Coffee time attendance is less consistent, since the 2 "regulars" are no longer able to attend. Michelle said they'll likely pause that program for a bit.

Committee Reports

The building committee reported on meeting last Monday. Michael Chezum from MidAmerica Basement gave presentation to the committee on basement waterproofing, which was very helpful and informative. Bid was $42,393.82 (option #1) for waterproofing alone; he also talked about "basement to beautiful wall" system (option #2), with total $54,841.38 for both projects combined. Option #3 included a plank floor (which would alleviate need for lead remediation), to total $81,713.66. This means we'll need to go out for competitive bids, since previous ones weren't for comparable work.
